

Chapters 1-2 Review

Across

- 1 Environmental lawsuits usually involve claims related to either _____ damage or alleged damage to the air, surface, personal injuries.
- 5 With respect to personal injury claims, the plaintiffs are typically _____, tenants or nearby residents.
- 6 The typical causes of actions asserted in most environmental lawsuits arise under either common or _____ law.
- 7 The damages under common law can _____ with damages that are also sought by a plaintiff under statutory law.
- 9 Environmental statutes in _____ do not provide for citizen suits.

Down

- 2 Property damage claims usually involve _____, surface water or groundwater at or near real estate.
- 3 Personal injury claims concern _____ to the plaintiffs themselves.
- 4 With respect to property damage claims, the plaintiffs are typically the current owners of real estate which has been impacted by _____ operations.
- 8 Plaintiffs also assert _____ suits under several federal environmental statutes.